Feature Job

Our feature job for this issue is a new fertilizer manufacturing facility for Anuvia Corporation in Zellwood, Florida. CDM/Smith served as the general contractor and their management team consisted of Ryan Hagaman – Project Manager and George Brodeur – Superintendent. Ace's project team consisted of Kevin Cowart - Project Manager, Kevin Townsend – Superintendent and William Kenyon - Estimator. Other Ace employees that worked on the job were Jason Bennett, Alberto Carlos, Jason Dees, Andres Felipe, Randy Kell, Ricky Marr, Travis Moore, Lynn Pattillo, Kelvin Slocumb and Kevin Yohe.

Anuvia is a specialty fertilizer company and the new Zellwood plant will manufacture organic fertilizer for the farming industry. The new facility consists of a granulation plant, a product warehouse, a chemical tank farm, a bio solids receiving area and an administration and lab building.

Ace Electric, Inc. would like to thank CDM/Smith for the opportunity to work together on this project and we congratulate Anuvia on their new facility.

Safety

Several of Ace Electric's superintendents were recently awarded the "Ron Amerson Certificate of Commendation for Safety Excellence" from the AGC - Georgia Branch for having no lost time incidents on their jobsites and for exceptional safety performance during the 2015 calendar year. Congratulations to these fine leaders on their achievement.

Atlanta Division: Jimye Taylor

Macon Division: Keith Wainwright

Statesboro Division: Brian Ridgle, David Brannen, David Brantley, Dennis Hales, Jim Deal, John Donaldson, JV McCall and Matt Erickson

Valdosta Division: Bryan Bailey, Chris May, Joey Perullo, John Herring, Lynn Pattillo and Kevin Townsend

Happenings

On March 4th, Tom Beckett, Jason Dees, George Haire, William Kenyon, Rob Stalvey, Bobby Watford and Jack Zeigler attended an IEC continuing education class held at the Valdosta Division office. Terry Rogers taught this four-hour class on motors, motor circuits and controllers.

Brian Geary and Austin Merriman represented Ace at the 2016 CEFGA Career Expo and Skills USA competition at the Georgia Convention Center in Atlanta on March 17th – 18th. This annual event attracts thousands of attendees including students, teachers and administrators from middle schools, high schools and technical colleges as well as corporate representatives from all areas of the construction industry. This event is a great promotional environment and networking opportunity for contractors and construction vendors, but most importantly, is an avenue to educate students about the many career opportunities available in the industry.

Ace is pleased to announce the acquisition of two new electrical licenses. Cliff Wheeler recently obtained his Master Electrician's License for the state of Texas and Tom Beckett just received his passing examination results for his Electrical Contractor's license for the state of Georgia. Congratulations to both of these gentlemen.

Mike Kallmeyer and Rob Stalvey attended the IEC National Policy Conference in Washington D.C. on April 25th - 27th. IEC members converge on the nation's capital for valuable education sessions and meetings, but most importantly, have an opportunity to meet with congressmen to lobby the issues affecting their businesses and to promote the industry.
